COLOUR MY WORLD KIT

I decided to make this little colour kit so as I can take my colours with me on the go. I am always getting stuck for card colour selections, so with this little treasure, life has just become that little bit easier. I hope it makes your life that little bit easier too.

Basically the cards are bound together with a ring. This concept makes room for adding additional pages that I will require at a later stage.

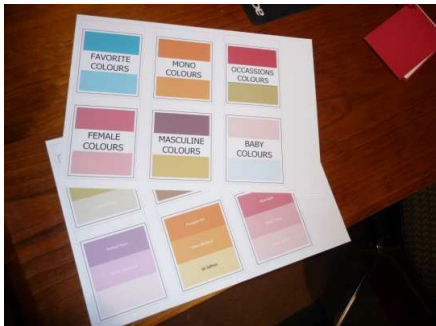

The card size is approximately 3 inches by 4 inches, just the right size for your tool bag.

Each separate page has a hole punched in the top left corner for the ring.

I have included cutting guides around the outside border of every page to assist with the construction of the booklet, so every page will be exactly the right size

There is also an index card section. You can use these sections to divide up your colour cards into various sections if needed.

Part 1

Part 2

Part 3

Cut a piece of coloured cardstock, large enough to cover the booklet.

Design your own front cover. If you desire.

Print out the document on photo paper. This is thicker than standard weight printer paper, so it's a little firmer.

Cut out cards using guide lines and punch holes in top left hand corner. I used Cropadile for this. Insert ring.

This is the best part. You now need to add your colour selector to your tool kit. Feel free to Jazz it up a bit, have fun.

Please remember that this took me a while to design this colour kit, so please reframe from copying it or re selling it in any way. Thank you. Keep an eye out for new editions to your Colour kit, as this is only the beginning.
