

Dotted lines- Score then you can use a marker for shadow effect lines.

Only cut the outline of the boot. Cut out separate insert spots and attach them to the boot. I made the hooks myself using very thin wire and feeding them through the holes and keeping them in place with brads but you can buy brads called loopy brads that will work great. I have purchased some off of e-bay. I have marked where I started from on the front and back. If you have any questions feel free to ask. Diane.
